I think if dominion power is allowed to dump coal ash into possum point, theb I should be allowed to take a giant excrement directly into each of Dominion's board members/ chairmen / executives' mouths, and urinate in their morning breakfasts, for the remainder of their lives.

If I am not clearly expressing my opposition towards this ash dumping, then let me make it crystal clear:

I AM AGAINST THE ACTION TO DUMP COAL ASH FROM THE POSSUM POINT LOCATION INTO THE JAMES RIVER.

Dumping of coal ash in the james river is not allowed as long as I'm alive. Dominion will have to compensate me for potential health conditions suffered in recreational use of the James river, along with emotional pain and suffering for the loss of quality of life for the surrounding area. As well as the majority of people who use the river, they are also entitled to compensation for this proposed illicit action.

I'm not interested in biased studies conducted by groups appointed by Dominion power on the "non" effects of industrial waste dumping. Perhaps dominion should look into more renewable, less pollutive sources of power and cease raping the environment and people who live around it.

Sincerely,
Joseph Mensh
